

Chapter 13

The following day would be our last day at sea and tomorrow morning I would set foot back on land and back to reality. I was trying to stay upbeat but I just couldn't get it out my head that I would be back in the uk and Joe would be here. So many miles away from me. Joe had left early to go get ready for the photo shoot. It was gonna be a long ass day for them, having photos taken with groups of women on this cruise. I sat on the bed applying make up for the photo. I could see tears trying to form and I blinked them away, I didn't want to look shit for the camera. Sacha knocked on the door and came in. She looked great in her short black dress and had decided to have her hair down. She was gorgeous and Donnie was a lucky guy to have got her. "Hey Hun how ya doing?" I looked at her and replied "how are you coping with all this?" "I'm fine with this I look at it this way I got to spend 4 great days with Donnie, but yeah I am hoping for more". I smiled. "Your not coping so well are you?" She asked. "I just don't want it to be over Sacha but reality is telling me today will be the last" . I swallowed has I felt a lump coming to my throat. "look if it's meant to be it will be Toni, have faith Hun ". We hugged each other and Sacha left for me to get dressed. We were meeting our 8 other friends for the photo . I decided on my short black and white dress which clung to my body showing my curves. I looked in the mirror and smiled. If this was the last thing Joe remembered of me then damn I was gonna look good. I put on heels and headed out. I was met by a wolf whistle from the girls. I blushed and we headed to the deck where the photos were taking place. We talked between our selves and stood in line for the photo.

I looked over to the guys and noticed Joe looking at me. He gave me a killer smile and went back to talking to the ladies stood next to him. The line was going down really quick. Soon it got to us and we hugged the guys and went and stood next to our favourite. Of course mine was Joe. He smiled and pulled me real close to him. I put one arm around his waist . He had put his arm around the girl on the other side. A couple of shots later and it was over. Joe kissed the girl on the cheek and then turned to me. He leant close and whispered "you looked amazing" he kissed me on the cheek . We were ushered right out of the room. I didn't get chance to reply to him or do anything.

We headed to the bar to have a few drinks and talk about our adventures on board the cruise. Of course me and Sacha had to stay stump on our adventures involving Joe and Donnie. The drinks had been flowing pretty well and I was slightly pissed. But I was a light weight when it came to booze.

We parted ways a couple of hours later to go get packed and ready for the final lido party. I'd pretty much packed and laid out my clothes for the party. I decided to go shower. I was stood under the hot water washing my hair when I felt some arms wrap around me. "Hey gorgeous I missed you" he whispered in my ear and nibbled it. I moaned and smiled. "Hey your distracting me Joe" I replied turning towards him. He was stood before me naked and ready for action. "Oh I see what's on your mind" I replied kissing him. He smiled and pulled me close. I wrapped my legs around him has he lifted me up and pushed me against the shower wall. "I want you so bad" he groaned has he hit home. I cried out has I felt him fill me completely. "Oh Joe I'm gonna miss this so much" I moaned has he began to thrust into me. I put my hands through his wet hair and bit his lip. He groaned and thrust harder into me. The build up was mounting and I felt myself come gripping him tighter. He groaned and carried on. It wasn't going to end anytime soon. Joe had found some energy from somewhere and we carried on has if this would be the last time we would be together. My legs trembled has I came again and Joe smiled at me "that's it baby come for me, I love the way you feel right now. My head went back has I had the most powerful organism of my life. Joe came shortly after and he gripped me so hard I knew I would bruise. "God Toni I'm so sorry" he apologised has he noticed the red marks on my arms. I smiled at him and said "it's okay baby that was the best yet". He laughed and pulled out of me. "come on let's get washed up and outta here, before I take you again". We washed each other and dried each other off.
