

Chapter 2

Lido deck.

We put vest tops on over our bikini tops and put our lanyards on. "Ready to go party" I asked. "Oh yes I think I'm ready to give Donnie a show" Sasha said smiling. We headed out of our room and headed to the lido deck bar. We got a cocktail and looked out on deck. There was no way we were gonna get to the front today, and the other women must have dumped their bags and headed straight out there. I looked to our left and spotted a spot on the upper deck. "How about up there?" I asked pointing to the spot. Sasha nodded and we headed up the stairs. We stood against the rails and waited for the guys to make their appearance. The Dj was playing some banging tunes and we got into it dancing. We noticed other women looking and shaking their heads. They had faces like a slapped weekend, they needed to live a little. I giggled has me and Sacha did our moves, we had been practicing at the hotel before the cruise. "Man some of these women need to chill, it's a vacation isn't it" Sasha said to me. "Yeah and I for one am gonna live it up" I replied taking another drink. I had my camera round my neck ready to take photos and videos.

Donnie's voice came over the mike, has he said the pledge. We all took our oath and waited for the guys. The women from before moved forward and started to enjoy it. I laughed and looked to the deck stage. Donnie came out first and the crowd went wild. Women all around we're screaming his name. "Oh my that guy has got spunk" Sacha replied shouting Donnie's name. He glanced our way and smiled. I waved and he waved to us. "I think I'm gonna wet myself I'm so excited" Sacha joked. "Hey carm down, remember we know where his room is" I replied. Joe and Jordan followed him out and I froze to the spot. My heart was banging in my chest. Sasha shouted "Joe ,Jordan "they looked over and Joe stumbled on the step. "I swear he still got it hot for you" Sacha said waving. Jordan smiled at us and waved walking past Joe on the steps onto the stage. I looked at Joe and waved to him. He smiled and waved back. I could feel myself blush. "oh man, that guy gets hotter" I said to Sacha. She laughed and hugged me. "Take a deep breath Toni, don't forget to breath" I looked at her and laughed. That guy had that effect on me. The Dj played Remix and we danced and sang along.

Donnie looked up to the girls and smiled, they were letting their hair down and enjoying themselves. He was glad to see it, some fans just stood there in a daze not knowing what to do. He liked to see them dancing and joining in. Damn Sacha had fine legs and he could imagine them wrapped round his body. He needed to get her out of his head. He giggled to himself and looked out to the crowd. Women were calling his name from all over and the front row ladies were holding things out for him to sign. He started signing some autographs. The other guys joined him on stage and did the same. Joe kept looking up to Toni, he couldn't help himself he was in big trouble here, he couldn't resist her fine body and that adorable smile. He had noticed she had a dimple when she smiled and he found that sexy. The guys played to the crowd for an hour then had to leave to get ready for the activities. "I'm gonna go check this boat out you coming Toni?" "No I'm gonna head back and go check out the gym, I've got some built up energy to get rid of" I replied. We went our separate ways.

I got to the room and changed into my little gym shorts and vest. I put my I pod on and got a water from the fridge. "Hey Toni are you in there? I heard Donnie call. I headed to the balcony and went out. "Hey Donnie what's up?" "You guys want to join us out here? I looked around and the guys were chilling beside the pool. "Love to but the gym is calling me". "Where's Sacha?" Donnie asked with a smile. That guy had it hot for her. "She's checking out the ship, shouldn't be to long, I'll text her and let her know" I replied. "Hey Toni you gonna join us? Joe called up. "Not yet I'm going to go do my workout for the day" I called down with a smile. Why was it I blushed every time he spoke to me. He looked way hot in his shorts. "I'll see you guys soon" I replied and headed to the gym. I texted Sacha to meet the guys out back of our room, and I would join her later.

The gym was quite nobody was in, I loved to workout alone I could focus better that way. I played my music and got on the tread mill. After half an hour I felt a tap on my shoulder. I looked around and Danny was stood there. I pulled my ear phones out and stopped the machine. "Mind if I join you? He asked. "no go ahead Danny" I replied. "Could you spot me on the weights? He asked. "Sure" I replied. We walked over to the bench. Danny laid down after sorting out his weights and I straddled him. "You comfortable there? He asked. "Sure I got ya covered go ahead". "your very distracting straddled across me like that" I smiled at him and said "want me to go stand behind you" "no I can deal, besides I like it" he replied stroking my legs. I felt all tingly and smiled. "come on Danny concentrate" I replied laughing.

Joe looked through the gym door and felt his heart beat faster, what the hell was going on in there. Toni was straddled across Danny and he was stroking her thighs. He wanted to be Danny right now, man he didn't even know Danny was interested in her. He noticed them laughing together before Danny started to lift weights. He so wanted to go in and do some running training but that looked to intimate to him. He felt so jealous right now. He watched Toni help Danny up and their touches seem to linger way to long for his liking. Toni laid down on the bench and Danny switched the weights. He returned the favour and straddled her. Joe felt like a peeping Tom but he couldn't take his eyes off them. Danny put his hand on her stomach and stroked it. He couldn't look anymore this was killing him. Joe turned away and headed back to his room.

"You've done really well, to get this fit in a year Toni, those abs are fine" Danny said stroking her stomach. I was feeling turned on at this moment and Danny was a well ripped man. "I've had a lot going on last year and this helped me focus" "I heard about it I'm so sorry Toni" Danny replied. "Hey I'm dealing now are you gonna let me focus here" I replied with a smile. "On one condition, I know you got the hots for Joe but I could really kiss those lips right now" he replied. "I'm pretty tied up right now, you could do anything and I couldn't do a thing about it" I replied licking my lips which felt dry. Danny grabbed my arms and leaned down towards me. I could feel his breath close to my lips and my stomach was tightening with excitement. "Will I or won't I? He teased me. I wriggled under him and could tell he was turned on right now. His lips touched mine and he kissed me. It started off slow but Danny sped up with the passion he was feeling for her. Man Joe was one lucky guy, he knew if it was him he wouldn't be able to hold back. He felt her tongue tease his lips to part and he opened his mouth. They explored each others mouth and he felt her move beneath him, man this was good. He stroked down her arm and across her stomach, he heard her groan and knew she was enjoying this has much has he was. He put his hand up her top and felt her erect nipple, he gave it a pinch and she let out another moan. Man he had to stop, but he was so turned on right now. We stopped kissing and Danny looked down at me and smiled. "I think I went a little to far ,I'm sorry ."I was enjoying that, I haven't felt like that for along time" I replied. "I don't want either of us to regret this" Danny said getting up off me. He held his hands out to help me up. "Was probably wise to stop there, but man I'm so frustrated right now, I'm gonna have to run it off" I replied smiling. "That makes two of us" he laughed. I could see that Danny was still turned on and I felt damp at the thought of what could of happened then. We both ran it off for twenty mins. I couldn't stop looking at him and smiling though. "you ready to head back? Danny asked stopping the thread mill. "Yeah okay" I replied. We talked all the way back to our rooms, he stopped outside my room and said "thanks for the workout" "It was fun, I hope we can do it again Danny" "I look forward to it" he replied. I leaned towards him and kissed him on the lips. I pulled away and said "till next time". I walked through the door. I leaned against it and closed my eyes. What the hell was I doing, I was like a bitch on heat. I missed feeling intimate with someone and Danny had showed me just how much. "Toni is that you? Sacha called from out back. "yeah I'm back" I called still feeling breathless from that session. "Come on in the pool" she called. "Okay just get changed" I replied. I took a quick shower and put my bikini on. I went outside.
