

Chapter 9

Sacha

Holding out for a year had been so hard, Donnie drove me crazy over his tweets and how he couldn't wait to see me again this year. When Toni arranged for us to come on the cruise I was so excited and a whole year of pent up Donnie love was killing me. Seeing him on deck had blown me away and I knew this year I couldn't hold back no more, if I got the chance I was going to dive straight in.

I'd been checking out the deck when I got the text that the guys were on our VIP deck and Donnie was waiting for me. I practically ran back to our room to change. I put on my bikini and checked myself out in the mirror. "Okay Donnie you want my ass your gonna have it" I said to my reflection and headed out. The guys were all relaxing by the pool and Toni was no where in site. I looked at Donnie and he looked sweet laid there with only his shorts on. I was feeling hot at that alone. "Toni still at the gym? I asked and watched Donnie look at me and smile, oh I had his attention all right. "Yeah guess she really likes to workout" Joe replied. "It's helped her a lot since her husband thought he could get better elsewhere" I replied feeling bitter that my friend who gave her all to her marriage had had her ass dropped for some bimbo . " she had her heart broken pretty bad I know" Joe replied. "More like ripped out torn and stamped on" I replied. I looked at Donnie and noticed him checking me out. I smiled and dove into the water. When I came up I noticed him stood in front of me. "Hey there" he said smiling at me. "Hey" I replied. His hands grabbed either side of my waist. "So it's been a year and I haven't stopped thinking about you" he said stroking my sides. I put my hands on his chest and he felt hard he had been working out. "So I've been in your head? I asked. "Yeah and in my dreams too" he replied. I felt his hands move under the water to my waist band and his thumb stroke below. I took a breath in and smiled into his eyes. Man I could look into those eyes forever. "So you been thinking of me ? He asked. "Maybe I have ,maybe I haven't "I replied teasing him. He pulled me closer and his lips were on mine. My stomach felt warm and I teased his lips apart with my tongue. I explored his mouth and heard him moan softy. "Hey guys get a room" Jon called out. I pulled away and stroked his lips with my finger. "so was it like that in your dream? I asked Donnie. "Oh that was way better". I let my hands and arms go under the water and felt how hard Donnie was. I smiled and said "this cruise is going to be one to remember". I noticed Toni come back with Danny and I could tell something had happened. I would talk to her later.

We hung out with the guys for a while then headed inside to get ready. Donnie had kissed me before I left and at any opportunity he would touch me. The guy was seriously turning me on right now. I knew before the night was out I would have that guy.

It happened after Toni disappeared with Joe and I was left alone at the bar. "So what's a pretty lady like this standing all alone for" I heard Donnie whisper in my ear.

"Guess I was waiting for a knight in shining armour to come and rescue me" I gave him my kilowatt smile. "So you wanna come back to my room?" "I'd like that Donnie, you ready to blow this party off?" "Hell I've been ready from the moment I saw you out there". We left VIP and headed to Donnies room. I didn't think it could get any better than our room, but his was way more swanky. Donnie lead me into the room and over to the bar. "So want a drink?" "I was thinking of something else I would like more". I pulled Donnie by the shirt closer to me and kissed him. I loved the way he kissed me, his tongue seeking out mine so hot. "You know I find that accent so fucking sexy". "So you like it when I call your name Donnie?" "I'm thinking of the way its gonna sound when I make you squeal baby".

Sacha blushed and shook with nervousness at finally getting to do what she had dreamed of. Donnie pulled me close. The air left my lungs, as I fell against his chest.

I felt him as his lips brushed my ear "I want you so bad right now" he whispered and I felt my stomach tighten. My hands went to his hair, pulling gently and encouraging him to kiss me again. I sighed and his tongue dipped inside, tasting me in long leisurely licks. His kiss spoke of confidence and just enough aggression to turn me on. Donnie growled, deepening the kiss, all the while stroking my tongue with his own. I felt his heart beating strongly against my own. Donnie grabbed the curve of my ass, picking me up. I felt the hardness of him against me, the feel of every hard inch against my pelvis. My breasts felt heavy and tender with the arousal, my clit throbbing for attention. I noticed we were moving and felt the couch against my back. I felt him pull my leg up the side of him, as he grabbed my thigh and stroked it. In a daze I watched as Donnie moved closer between my legs. I widened them further to accommodate his hips. He hunched my skirt up further. His fingers sort out my thong and pulled it off. All the while he was kissing me and I was moaning in pleasure. Donnie pushed a finger into me and I groaned in pleasure, he pulled it out and thrust it gently back into me. I bowed my back in pleasure and clenched his finger. "Wow Sacha your so hot" he growled biting down on my bottom lip. He stroked my bud with his thumb and I felt it building inside me. "Oh Donnie" I moaned. Pure need took over me and I ripped away his shirt and pulled on the waistband of his trousers. "Please Donnie I need you now" He smiled at me and dropped his boxers. Man he was so wide and long, not what I expected at all. He leant in further and guided himself into me. I felt myself clench against him guiding him in further. I looked into his eyes and saw how deep they had gotten. He thrust into me "You're so tight" He commented with gasped words. "And your fucking amazing" I called out as he speeded up, thrusting into me harder. My nails dug into his back. I tasted salt from his sweat as I bit into his shoulder. I knew I wasn't gonna last much longer. He pounded into me losing control and I screamed his name "Donnie" as I came. I clenched him harder and he called out my name "Sacha" as I felt him come deep inside me. He kissed me so gently afterwards. "Man I'm falling for you" he replied pulling out of me and lifting me up. He carried me over to his bed and we laid down together.
